FTL Drive

It is 2046 and Humanity has finally discovered how to travel faster than light in space, The FTL drive or Faster than Light drive is a revolutionary piece of technology that allows a spaceship to travel through space at speeds faster than the speed of light. According to Einstein's theory of relativity, nothing can travel faster than the speed of light, but the FTL drive works by creating a wormhole in space-time that the ship can travel through, effectively bypassing the speed of light barrier. The wormhole is created using a massive amount of energy, which is generated by the FTL drive's engines. These engines are able to spin at incredible RPMs, creating a powerful gravitational field that warps the fabric of space-time. When the drive is activated, the ship is able to enter the wormhole and emerge at its destination almost instantly, regardless of the distance. However the technology has still not been tested but that changes today, Commander Ezra is the man that will claim the title of 'Being the first man to travel faster than Light'. The spaceship that will allow him to achieve this incredible feat is called the 'Prometheus'. As Commander Ezra boards the Prometheus, we see a brief flash of determination on his face. He has dreamed of being the first person to travel faster than light for as long as he can remember, and today is the day that he will make that dream a reality. But Ezra's motivations go beyond personal glory. He sees the FTL drive as a way for humanity to explore the universe, something that has always fascinated him. He knows that the journey will be perilous and that there are many unknowns, but he is willing to take that risk in the hopes of making a positive impact on the world. As he performs the diagnostic on the Prometheus, Ezra can't help but feel a sense of awe at the incredible technology that surrounds him. He knows that he is about to embark on a journey that will change the course of human history, and he is determined to make the most of it. We see the Ground Control checking the status and functioning of Prometheus to minimize any chance of error of any kind but we briefly see a small warning message that was automatically ignored by the computer due to it being a really minor issue. Now Ezra is turning all the systems on the Prometheus online one by one. After a couple of minutes all the systems are now active, he confirms that the Prometheus is good to go and the Ground control also sees no issues and gives permission for the journey to commence. The planned destination for Prometheus is Mars high orbit. Prometheus is expected to reach in just 4 minutes rather than the traditional 6 month journey to Mars. Now Ezra is starting up the FTL Drive. We see the FTL drive starting to spin as it reaches immense RPM (Rotation per minute) and then Ezra presses a button and the FTL drive starts glowing blue and in the blink of an eye the Prometheus vanishes leaving a faint distortion that fades away quickly, after 4 minutes the Prometheus appears in Mars High orbit as everyone at Earth starts cheering happily at the success they achieved but that's just half the journey as the Prometheus still has to make a return voyage back to Earth. Now Prometheus was preparing for its journey back home, Ezra starts the FTL Drive but on the computer screen one of the many interlocks that keeps the drive stable is not responding, Ezra tries again but still no response. Ezra decides to inform the control center on Earth about this issue, they tell Ezra to shut down the FTL Drive for now until some solution is found. Ezra starts to turn off the FTL Drive but now the entire Drive is not responding to any of his commands, Alarms start blaring in the Prometheus as the FTL Drive gains RPM and the with a bright flash the Prometheus disappears again. The crew of the Ground control on Earth goes into total Panic and start to try to find where the Prometheus went, "All contacts with the Prometheus has been lost" one person in the crew says, No signal, No visual, No sign of where it went, We now see Ezra and he wakes up as the sudden activation of the FTL Drive knocked him unconscious, He tries to figure out what happened, The computer says that the FTL Drive has been completely wrecked and is now inoperable thus leaving him no way of returning back to Earth, He now notices a Large structure in some distance, as he stares at it, some spaceships emerge out of the structure coming towards the Prometheus, He realizes that when he was travelling Faster than light, some aliens noticed the distortion of Space-Time because of the malfunctioning FTL Drive, They decided to pull the Prometheus out of Faster than light travel to examine it. Now the alien spaceships arrive at his location and scan the whole Prometheus, after the scan they decide to Teleport Ezra to their Planet. Ezra wakes up and sees some aliens standing beside him, He becomes frightened, one of the Aliens speaks in English, Ezra was so confused that how come the aliens know English, The alien introduces himself as Maxxor, Maxxor says that they have no intention of Harming him, Maxxor explains that their Species have once captured a space probe in Interstellar space and it had a Golden disk attached to it which explained about the Human civilization and the Location of the Planet that Humans live on using a Pulsar Map. Ezra remembers the Spacecraft was Voyager 1 that had the Golden record attached on it and that was launched to head into interstellar space for a chance of encountering an Alien species and the Explanation the alien gave about the golden record exactly matched the record they sent on Voyager 1. Maxxor says and that's how we found out about Earth and the Human Civilization and we did not want the Humans to know about us so that they can progress naturally and that to only contact them when they have discovered a Technology that enables them to travel faster than Light and today that condition was met so we revealed ourselves to the first human that is you. Maxxor says that now they will fix Prometheus and come with him to Earth to announce their presence to the rest of the Human Civilization. Ezra nodded in agreement. After a couple of Hours the Prometheus was fixed and Ezra boarded it. Ezra starts all the Prometheus's systems and takes off as some alien ships follow him, He starts up the FTL Drive and with a Flash the Prometheus with the alien ships vanishes. Now we see the Ground crew on Earth losing hope of getting the Prometheus back and start to shut down all the systems that they were using to contact and monitor Prometheus, when suddenly a warning appears on one of the Computer's screen informing them about some kind of Distortion in Space-Time, all of them stare at the screens in Amazement as the Prometheus reappears but with alien spaceships following him, They immediately contact the Prometheus and warn Ezra about the Alien spaceships following him and Ezra speaks "Don't worry Command, They are with me". All the spaceships including the Prometheus land on the Earth as Ezra and some Aliens come out. Ezra introduces the Ground crew with Maxxor and the other Aliens as they explain everything to the Ground crew. The ground crew now informs the president about the situation and requests him to announce this to the entire Planet. After a couple of days an Announcement is broadcasted in the Entire world. We see the President saying “My fellow friends, I have got a very interesting announcement for everyone,” He says “We are not alone in this universe!” as the entire world listens in Amazement, He introduces Maxxor to the Public, Maxxor says “Hello fellow Earthlings, Our species have been watching Earth for a long time and now we have decided to reveal ourselves to the Humans, We come in Peace and want to work together with Humanity to unravel the secrets of the universe”. And then the story of Friendship and the era of Discovery begins.
